THE HOME COMING EPISODE:

It was the last day of the camp, the day when all arrived here were pale and dull, rather it was the first batch of our college sending its first batch of 25 students for the NSS special camp. All were happy, happy because everyone got a lot to share with everyone in the campus. Someone said it true "Sometimes you will never know the vale of moment until it becomes a memory". We gathered near the temple for the last moment capturing event, a group photo of all volunteers with the villagers. Thanking them for their co-operation and their helping nature through out the camp, we said them bye and then we came back to our college.
